THE TOGANETTE

1941

FOREWORD

We, the Toganette staff of 1941 present this volume of our year-book for your approval. If we give our many friends outside our school pleasure in commemorating our school life and activities, we shall feel that our endeavor has not been useless.

DEDICATION

To

CARL A. ROTH

Our sponsor, we gladly dedicate this annual. With him as our sponsor our annual staff has worked to reach their goal. His efforts to build up the publication and dramatic departments have been heartfully accepted. We sincerely hope that he has as much success in the future.

CLASSES

Early in the year the Senior class met and elected the following officers:

President: Vera Green
Vice President: Thelma Sheperd
Secretary: Norman Scott
Treasurer: La Verdo Fox

Mr. Smith was the class sponsor and very ably assisted the members in all their activities. The class had one party early in the year at Side-Cut park. Their main interests, however, were restricted to intramural activities. All members were active in some function.

Senior Prophecy

It is the year 1961. I am on my vacation and am making a long wished-for visit to New York. I have always wanted to visit Chinatown, but have never had the chance. I was a bit leery of entering its endless alleys and dead end streets alone, but here I am at last, unescorted.

I now approach a very interesting-looking shop. I pause, gaze about me, then enter. I walk about, but no one appears. At last, I investigate further, and as I go through the swinging door, a penetrating odor wafts to my nostrils.

In the gloom of the outer chamber, I distinguish dim shapes. As my eyes grow accustomed to the darkness, I see that there are other Americans lounging on couches and smoking strange-looking pipes. A Chinese servant approaches me and silently offers me one of the pipes. Being eccentric, I take the proffered gift and immediately begin to smoke. As I inhale the strange drug, I slowly become drowsier and drowsier; then suddenly I am no longer conscious.

My mind drifts, and the events of the past twenty years appear, one by one, before me. At last a veil is lifted, and I see before me the lives of my classmates.

In my mind's eye, I visit Washington, D. C. There holding a prominent position in the president's cabinet is Glen Goale. It is rumored that he will be the next appointment to the Supreme Court and that he is the president's favorite companion. We always knew that Glen would go far with his aggressive attitude.

After leaving Washington, my mind wanders to Saks, Fifth Avenue in New York. There in the style department is Vera Green. She is now a glamorous, chic, Veree. Our old friend has become a success and travels once a month to Paris for style shows.

From New York, I journey to Hollywood where I find the now famous orchestra leader, Norman Scott, making a new picture. "Scottie's Sizzling Syncopators broadcast every week over a leading network. 'Tis said he learned his style in good old W. T. H. S. and that he continued his practice of trumpet tooting after he graduated.

My destination is now Detroit. I visit an imposing theatre. I sit down in the rear of the auditorium. I notice that the audience is entranced. The Philadelphia Symphonic Orchestra is playing, but above the music of the orchestra rise the rich tones of an operatic soprano. There is something familiar about the singer, but I do not recognize her. I inquire of my neighbor and learn that she is Madame Avie, better known to me as Mary Avey. We all predicted great things for Mary, and now they have all come true.

I leave the theatre and walk into a bookstore for entertainment. On a shelf, a book with a familiar name on the cover stares forth at me. Roger Hafner, the famous author, has just published his sixth best seller and is rumored writing another. We used to appreciate Roger's poetry in the old days.

I now progress to St. Louis where I visit a ball park. I had heard tales of the amazing rookie pitcher who 18 years earlier had pitched the St. Louis Browns to the championship without losing a game during the season. I saw a familiar figure in the diamond and learned that it was La Verdo Fox. He is the manager of the Browns now, as he is too old to pitch successfully. The Browns have been world's champions eight times in the last twenty years.

Broadway now draws my attention. Myron Smith is co-starring with Clifford Mawer in an elaborate stage production. It seems they joined as a comedy team after their public speaking course. They are very popular with the ladies (as always) even though both are happily married. Clifford plays the part of a stage Romeo while Myron is his feminine Juliet. The critics have highly approved them, and they will probably move on to Hollywood.

After seeing all these people, I suddenly thought of Thelma Sheperd. I looked for her and found her a well-loved governess in a wealthy home. It seems Thelma likes children and thoroughly enjoys her work. She recently met an important man on Wall Street who has taken a great interest in her. Thelma was proudly displaying a diamond ring and was making great plans for the future.

I was homesick now after seeing Thelma and decided to return home. Here I found that John Hummel is the only one who has remained on the farm. He has become quite wealthy and is an important leader in the community. His visits to Grand Rapids developed very well, and he is quite happy. He was recently elected township trustee.

It seemed as if I had forgotten someone. At last I remembered Thelma Tolles. I did not know quite where to look for her, but at last remembered that she had been quite interested in law. I went to San Fransisco and there found her doing very well as a criminal lawyer. It seems that she never takes a case unless she believes her client completely innocent. She always did like to bet on a sure thing.

I am now coming out of my dream; the effect of the drug is wearing off. Even though I may never see these classmates of mine again, I shall die happy knowing that even though they made a very unpretentious beginning, they all have ended successfully. It seems that old adage, "Quality not quantity" holds true.

Senior Class Will

We, the Senior class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty One, being sound of mind and judgment, do hereby dispose of our worldly possessions as follows:

To the school, we bequeath the memory of our shining faces and scholastic achievements.

To the teachers, we bequeath our serious thoughts.

To the Juniors, we bequeath our dignity and cooperative spirit.

To the Sophomores, we bequeath our ability to conduct class parties.

To the Freshmen, we bequeath our debating qualities.

I, Thelma Tolles, will my ability to skin my knees to Doris Creps, on condition that she uses it as successfully as I have.

I, Clifford Mawer, will my curly black hair to Raymond Neifer, provided he gets a fingerwave once a week.

I, Thelma Sheperd, will my good attendance to Walter Karns, on condition that he doesn't study too hard.

I, John Hummel, will my Chevy coupe and road maps to George Scott, provided he goes to see that certain somebody once a week.

I, Mary Avey, will my ability to faint to Miss Schnur, on condition that she doesn't use it in Bookkeeping class.

I, Myron Smith, will my position on the baseball team to Joe Speck, provided he doesn't turn professional.

I, Glen Coale, will my spot on the basketball team to Clyde Harman, on condition that he isn't too aggressive,

I, Vera Green, will my height to Letha Main, provided she doesn't break any chandeliers.

I, Norman Scott, will my trumpet to Clarence Euler, on condition that he doesn't start a swing band.

I, Roger Hafner, will my ability to write poems to Emmet Sherman, provided he doesn't get romantic.

I, La Verdo Fox, will my track suit to Harold Castner, on condition that he doesn't stretch it while doing the high jump.

Subscribed, sealed and published this 23rd day of May as its last act of law in the presence of each other, who, in the presence of one another have served as witnesses to this testament.

Signed The Senior Class

Senior History

As the school bell rang for the first time in the autumn of 1937, there were sixteen papooses enrolled in the freshman class. Of these, five were girls and eleven were boys. At the beginning of the second semester, another student, Thelma Tolles, joined the class, raising the total membership to seventeen. The class, as a whole did not accomplish much but the members established themselves for a successful career throughout high school.

In th fall of 1938, a fewer number of students of the class of '41 returned. The class gained another member, Mary Avey, but during the year lost Harold Potter, Frances Chenetski, Charles Porterfield, and Elmer Green. As in the freshman year the members showed their ability to take part in school affairs.

Then came the Junior year. The class again lost a member, Shirley Sangston and gained Twilla Lambert. Delvin Stone was forced to withdraw because of ill health. After electing officers, they began to think of selecting class rings. Their Junior play, "Girl Shy," was given late in the year with much success, and the Junior-Senior banquet was given.

The Senior year, their final year, came at last. During the year Twilla and Evelyn Kidd dropped from the list and at last a total of eleven, the smallest class ever to graduate from W. H. T. S. was left. They elected officers, had their pictures taken, selected invitations, and selected a class play, "Look Out Lizzie". They presented their play early in May. Their main objective throughout the year was to raise money for their class trip and for that end they took part in many activities. The class is looking forward to Commencement and the members are each hoping for as successful a future as has been its history.

Senior Class Play

LOOK OUT, LIZZIE

Silas Long	Myron Smith
Sarah	Thelma Tolles
Hazel	Mary Avey
Lizzie Blanks	Thelma Sheperd
Hank Blinks	Glen Coale
Minnie Hall	Vera Green
Richard Biltmore	Clifford Mawer
Dave Hinkle	Norman Scott

Hazel, the only child of a backwoods Indiana farmer, tires of country life. She receives little sympathy from her parents, especially her father, who refuses to leave the old farm because he belives some Eastern men are interested in a rock quarry, which lies under his farm.

Hazel meets Richard Biltmore, a stranger from the city. They fall in love with each other. This is an awful according to Minnie Hall, the neighborhood gossip. However, Hazel's parents finally permit Richard to come to see her. Hazel insists upo nreceiving him in style, so she makes the family "doll up". She dresses Hank, the hired man, as abutler, and Lizzie, the hired girl, as a maid. When Richard arrives, he is not dressed up. The maid falls for Richard and the fun begins.

Junior Class

The Junior Class of 1940-41 began the year with a total of twenty-four members, having Mr. Rudolph as sponsor. They elected the following officers: Ray Gundy, president; Clyde Harman, vice-president; Helen Grames, secretary; LaDonna Wenig, treasurer. After losing Helen, Ronald Current was elected secretary for the remainder of the year. The class was also unfortunate in losing two more members, Rutha Meek, and Emily Lobdell. This left a total of twenty-one members.

Several events of importance took place during the year. Of course the choosing of a class ring was placed first. Then the Junior play was selected and the Juniors were very busy. On April 3, 1941, "The Nutt Family" was presented with much success. At last came the big event, the Junior-Senior Banquet, which was given as a last farewell to the Seniors.

The Juniors closed the year by standing by the Seniors at Commencement and Baccalaureate, and are looking forward with great eagerness to the coming year.

Junior-Senior Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held April 30, 1941, at 6:00 p. m. in the school auditorium. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with the Senior class colors, blue and silver. The banquet was prepared by the Juniors' mothers and served by the Sophomore girls. The theme was as follows:

Jack in the Pulpit—Reverend Peters.
Welcome Sweet Springtime—Ruth Coale, Janet Kuder, and Joan Bostdorff.
Johnny Jump Up—Keith Yates.
Dandelion—Ray Gundy.
Spring Beauty—Vera Green.
Sweet Peas and Poison Ivy—Mr. Smith, Mary Huffman, Myron Smith.
Let's All Sing Like the Birdies Sing—All.

After the banquet, games were played and those who wished danced. Everyone had a wonderful time, especially the Seniors, for whom the banqeut was given.

Miss Blue, one of our new faculty members, was the sponsor of this group. Twenty-four members answered to the roll call. Two parties were held during the year. In order to acquaint the young people with the purpose of organization, class officers were selected.

SEVENTH GRADE

Fifth and Sixth Grades - Miss Edwards

During the school year of 1940-41, the fifth and sixth grades have been working especially hard on manners and "The American Way of Life." They have read from various texts such as "Living With Others" and "Behave Yourself" to find out how we should speak and act at all times. Their goal for the year has been to be the best fifth and sixth graders that Tontogany has ever had.

They have taken part in many school activities giving short playlets, poems, and songs. They have learned approximately fifteen poems this year. They helped to get P. T. A. members, sell Christmas and Easter seals, and also contributed to the Red Cross and the March of Dimes fund. They also made stuffed toys for children that had no toys.

In geography they have made their study of the United States and foreign countries interesting by the use of current war pictures, pamphlets, and stereoscopes. In art they have become acquainted with many world famous paintings and have studied about the lives of the great painters who painted them. In health they have stressed the care of the body and its habits. As a result they have very good attendance and the following did not miss a day of school during the first thirty weeks: Howard Lugabihl, Eldon Lee Williams, Ray Jordan, Frances Bierley, Rosemary Lashuay, Ruth Smith, Delores Jordan, Jack Current, and Donald Jordan.

Fourth and Fifth Grades - Miss Avery

During the school year the enrollment of the fourth and fifth grade room was thirty-eight. There were twenty-six in the fourth and eleven in the fifth. The following children were not absent all year: Rita Avery, Roy Jordan, Kathryn King, Mary Della Vollmar, Ruby Jane Williams.

They have worked hard on citizenship this year. Every six weeks period they had charts on citizenship and spelling.

For each month one row of the class took charge of the decorations and pictures to be used in our rooms.

Each week they chose pupils who took charge of their room, keeping it neat and orderly.

Sixth Grade

Second Row: Dicky Lugabihl, Velda Wade, Mary Coale, Rose Sautter, Clarence Kidd, Donabelle Vollmar.

Third Row: Dick Sprague, Joseph Kaiser. Dick Sheldrick, Harold Peterson, Ronald Smith, Larry Grimm.

Second and Third Grades - Miss Landers

Last fall thirty-three girls and boys entered their room for another year of work and play. Thirteen were in the second grade, and twenty were in the third grade. Patty Eckelbarger, Rolland Stieben, Dennis Lobdell, and Marilyn Grames left us to go to other schools.

Their room joined the Junior Cross this year. They also contributed to the Infantile Paralysis Campaign fund and the Crippled Chikdren Fund at Easter time.

They worked out several projects this year which have given them much information and pleasure. They worked out projects on Indian and Eskimo life, also on travel and transportation.

They have made several booklets this year, one on the life of Lincoln and Washington; one on Indian and Eskimo life; and some spelling booklets. Each one designed the covers for his book. They have had many contests this year in spelling, arithmetic, and reading. They have had a few parties, one at Halloween, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter.

As the year came to a close, it left them with many pleasant memories for the years to come.

First and Second Grades - Miss Lay

At the beginning of the school year there were nineteen in the first grade and eighteen in the second grade. In March, Norma Stieben moved to Neapolis.

The following children were on the honor roll every six weeks period: Mary Coale, Velda Wade, Dick Sprague, and Joseph Kaiser.

During the school year their attention was centered on character education, or on the idea of becoming better citizens. They tried to carry out this idea in all of their work and play. With this in mind they had a choral verse speaking choir. Poems to build character were selected. Choral speaking also helped those with speech impediments. However, the children were not aware of these needs and participated for enjoyment only. No one was forced to learn the poetry, but nearly all of the children were able to say forty poems, the Pledge of Allegiance, the Lord's Prayer, and other prayers.

Thinking of others, they joined the Junior Red Cross, and contributed to the Infantile Paralysis Campaign fund. They also helped to sell Christmas and Easter seals. At Christmas time they made gifts for their mothers.

The children were interested in a unit on pets and their respective habits. Especially they stressed being kind to animals. In the spring they enjoyed a unit on Nature. Their art activities included such things as finger painting, spatter painting, pictorial art, free hand crayon and cut paper designs, and clay modeling.

Baseball

Sixteen boys reported for spring baseball this year. They were as follows: Gundy, Matheny, Neifer, Walters, Ballard, Shank, E. Vollmar, Ott, W. Vollmar, B. Leimgruber, Euler, Sherman, Sheeks, Yates, J. Burditt, B. Smith.

The success of the Tontogany Indians last fall as compared with their record of games played and lost this winter varies greatly. It seems that the loss of two star players, Fox and Smith, was responsible for this. As Seniors were not allowed to play this year, these boys were excluded from the team.

In the tournament last year, playing against Walbridge, Fox struck out twenty-one of the twenty-three batters. Smith was known as the sparkplug of the team for the last two years.

Burditt, taking his new position on the mound this year, will be a great help to the Indians. Bob Matheny has taken over the duties of Smith as short-stop, and Keith Yates has acquired the position as catcher. Gundy is one of the fastest fielders in high school baseball, while Shanks seldom lets any grounder get by for Gundy to get. Ballard and Walters should be quite well known for their hitting next year.

If the Indians play next year as they are capable of playing, they should be at the top in the county tournament.

Varsity Basketball

LA VERDO FOX

"Bert," a Senior, served as co-captain for 1941. He played regularly as forward and turned in his usual good job at working the bankboard. "Bert" is a tough man to lose.

GLEN COALE

"Mussie," a Senior, also served as co-captain. He broke into the first five this year as a guard. He is a good aggressive player and will be greatly missed next year.

RONALD SHELDRICK

"Doc," a Junior, the tallest man on the team, held down the center position all season. Possessor of a fine spirit and with another year to go, "Doc" should be a key man next year.

RAY GUNDY

"McGilicudy," a Junior, played a forward position and his specialties were long shots. He will be a valuable man on next year's team.

EDWARD SHANK

"Shaver," is only a Sophomore and held down a regular position as guard. His size was a disadvantage to him, but he offset it by his accurate shots and fancy ball-handling.

RAYMOND NEIFER

"Bud" a Sophomore, was a "sub" on the first team. His fine guarding and accurate shots saved many games for the second team.

NORMAN SCOTT

"Normie" was the center on the second team. His height and pivot shots helped save many games. He is a Senior and will be greatly missed next year.

WALTER KARNS

"Troll" was a Junior and his long shots helped to win many games for the second team. He is a possible candidate for the first team of '41 and '42.

JACK BALLARD

"Jake" was a substitute forward on the first team. "Jake" ran both bankboards with surprising success and is also a candidate for next year's first team.

JOHN WALTER

"Johnny" was a Sophomore. He played any position that the coach asked him to play and did it well. He is one of the most promising ball players to come from the second team in some time.

Varsity Basketball

CLARENCE EULER

"Oiler", another Sophomore, played as forward. His hook shots and good guarding will probably make "Oiler" a great help to the team next year.

BERL SMITH

"Smithy" was a Freshman this year. He didn't get to play much but we will all see him around next year.

GEORGE WILLIAMS

"Ace" is another Freshman. He helped run the bankboard this year on the second team and next year will be a tough man to hold down.

DELBERT OTT

"Otto was a sub on the second team this year. He is a good shot from anywhere on the floor and will be in there fighting next year. "Otto" is a Sophomore this year.

CLYDE HARMAN

"Red" reported this year for the team after serving as last year's manager. "Red" is a junior this year.

KENNETH SHEEKS

"Kenny", a Freshman, worked as number one substitute for the second team. We should see more of his work next year.

GEORGE SCOTT

"Scottie", a Freshman, did not see much action this year. His height and acurate shots will make him a good man.

WAYNE VOLLMAR

"Hound", a Freshman, was a "sub" on the second team. His good shooting ability and guarding will help him next year.

HARLAND HERR

"Runt" was another Freshman. He was a "sub" on the second team. He will probably see more action next year.

Track

There were thirteen boys who answered Coach Kinney's call for track. They were as follows: Fox, Mawer, Smith, Creps, Gundy, Sheldrick, Shanks, Walters, Scott, Willaims, Sheeks, Smith, and Herr. They are small in number but great in stature.

The first meet was with Webster, the Wood County Champions last year. Harland Kinney's Indians came in second best, but they took many first places. The score was 55-48 with Togany's star track man, Fox, taking first place in the 100 yd. dash, the shot put (43 ft. 11¾ in., a new unofficial record), high jump, and discus.

Mawer, another senior, will be greatly missed also. Mawer runs the 100 yd. dash, the 220 yd. dash, and ran second on the mile-relay team.

Smith, a senior, was used exclusively in the relay events. He is a fellow with plenty of spirit and heart and that's the main thing in track.

Gundy has another year with the Indians and will show his speed in many coming events. Ray takes part in the pole vault, 440 yd. dash, broad jump, and the mile relay.

Sheldrick and Walters, sophomores, are promising track men for the years to come. Williams, Sheeks, Scott, Smith, and Herr, are all freshmen and will place in events in the near future, and will be seen in the limelight of sports at Togany. Losing the first track meet the Indians came back strong against Wayne and came out on top with a score of 52-48.

Jr. High Basketball

The Jr. High started out with two scheduled practices a week. The following boys were present for the first practice: Bob Smith, Cloyd Nicodemus, Raymond Roudebush, Dick Shank, Vernon Vollmar, Lyle Wright, Gene Pfaff, Bob Sears, and Donald Buehrer.

The Jr. High had a very successful season this year, having won 10 games and lost 3. They finished up with second place in the league, but were defeated by Jackson for the league championship.

The papooses, however, lost their first game in the county tournament to Liberty. Previously they had defeated Liberty twice. The Jr. High team shows promise of being good material for the varsity basketball teams in the coming years.

Senior Band

The Senior Band of eighteen members played for the majority of the basketball games and for one of the Wood County Tournament games. This group also made appearance at the Public Speaking Class Play, at the Rebekahs' Halloween Party, and for assembly programs. Many band members played solo or ensemble numbers on the Farmers' Institute program this year.

Tryouts may be held to determine which members will have the privilege of representing Tontogany at the Wood County Music Festival.

The fifteen members of the Junior Band did exceptionally fine work. These members will take the place of the graduating Seniors of this year. This organization has played for assembly programs throughout the year.

Girls' Chorus

The Girl's Chorus under the able supervision of our fine new music instructor, Miss Blue, and accompanied at the piano by the student pianist, Marjorie Leimgruber, included thirty-five members.

The girls made their first appearance at the Presbyterian Church. This was followed by appearance before the Evangelical Church, the Republican Rally, a P. T. A. meeting, several assemblies, and the Wood County Teachers' Institute.

The most cherished event of the year was the district choral contest held on the campus of the Bowling Green State University. The girls, singing as their required number, Brahm's "Little Dustman," and as their selected number, "The Spinning Song", were granted an excellent rating.

Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus, composed of fifty members of the high school, met each Tuesday and Thursday with their new instructor, Miss Mercedes Blue.

The first of the year was spent in singing some of the numbers sung by the Mixed Chorus of other years and other familiar melodies. At the beginning of the second semester they sang "The Skiing Song" and "The Vesper Song."

On March 21, 35 of the members journeyed to Bowling Green to participate in the annual Northwestern Ohio District Music Contest. They received a good rating. On the day before this event they sang their contest numbers which were "Turn Ye To Me" (selective number) and "The Ash Grove" (required number) in assembly. The pianist for the group was Mary Alice Huffman.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves, consisting of twenty five members were organized at the beginning of the school year under the guidance of Miss Lay, Miss Edwards, and Miss Schnur, the sponsors. At the first meeting, the following were elected:

President: Mary Huffman

V. President: Maxine Gill

Secretary: Thelma Tolles

Treasurer: Berniece Von Seggern

News Reporter: Lois Avey

Song Leader: Mary Avey

Every other Tuesday was their regular meeting night. These meetings were held at the schoolhouse and at the homes of the members. At each meeting they discussed different projects to be carried out which would benefit the community. The girls also cooperated with the Hi-Y in selling Basketball season tickets.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y was under the able leadership of Mr. Kinney and Mr. Roth. The officers of the club were:

President: Norman Scott

V. President: Glen Schroeder

Secretary: Glen Coale

Treasurer: Grover Wires

The new members taken into the club this year were: Robert Matheny, Clifford Mawer, John Hummel, George Williams, Joe Speck, George Scott and Louis Pauff. The club sold season tickets and decorated the gymnasium for basketball games. They have had several swimming parties this year. The Girl Reserves gave the Hi-Y a skating party early in the year. At some meetings they devoted all their time to discussion groups. The Advisory Council in the town is Mr. Harley Gill, Mr. Andrew Sautter, and Mr. Gerald Croll. The members of the club are active in athletics, music, and scholarship. They hold their election of officers after the Easter vacation.

Student Council

This year the student council was under the supervision of Mr. Smith. It was composed of two members elected by each class of the upper six grades. These members were: Clifford Mawer and Norman Scott, Seniors; Keith Yates and Robert Matheny, Juniors; Georgis Tampurages and Eileen Gill, Sophomores; Joan Bostdorff and Letha Main, Freshmen; Joyce Peinert and Lyle Wright, Eighth Grade; and Bill Ballard and Bob Sears, Seventh Grade.

During the year the council acted as a hospitality committee representing the school, at the Farmer's Institute and cooperated with the Girls' Reserve in conducting the sale of tickets for the Athletic Banquet.

The play takes place in a sanitarium. Miss Bea Wise, a real estate agent is trying to sell the place while the owner is in Europe. She runs into the Nutt Family and trys to sell them the place. P. Nutt, the head of the family, is a doctor who is tired of practicing medicine. Meta Nutt, his wife, raises a pet snake. Wall Nutt is fascinated by fish and Ima Nutt, their daughter is falling in love. As they become settled in Crestdale, several former patients arrive. Larry Smart falls in love with Ima and thinks she is a real nut. He pretends he is a nut in order to protect himself.

The parts were played successfully by the Juniors and everyone agreed that it was an evening well spent.

"The Lone Eagle" is a story of American family life, with one of the sons, Jim, achieving fame from aviation through a feat that made American history. A mixed up love affair is involved but at the end, James proposes to Agnes, and Robert and Betty become engaged. Mrs. Holmes who attends to everybody's business but her own, and Hilda, the slow moving maid, furnished most of the comedy. Julia Johnson, an uprising newspaper reporter, is always on the job. Sparks Wilson and Mayor Hopkins also did their part toward making the play a success. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are the proud parents of their talented sons.
